

GANG OF TOUGHS ATTACK BABES

Seventeenth Street Negroes Pelt
Defenseless Mothers and Children With Stones.

Having nothing else with which to amuse themselves last night, several negro boys pelted two women sitting outside their doors, with babies in perambulators, and another in the doorway, and struck the last on the leg with one of the rocks as large as a man's fist. The outrage was perpetrated without cause. After shying several stones at the mothers and their babies, the miscreants fled before a police officer could arrive, though Officer Tait searched high and low for them.

The two women live on Broad Street, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, and it is believed that it was a gang of Seventeenth Street vagrants and toughs—the worst in the city—that made the uncalled-for attack. Many of them have been arrested time and again, but it is not long before they are out of jail and back again at the respectable work of begging and doing nothing to earn a living. Another was recently jailed, but was out again before the term was properly up.

Louis Endelman was fined $25 and placed under $300 security in Police Court yesterday morning on a charge of beating and mistreating his wife, Rosa Endelman. C. Bizzing, alias "Bijou," alias Junius Wilson, was present on a charge of stealing a $5 pair of trousers, which was continued to the 18th. On the charge of assaulting Pearl Bentley, he was sent on to the grand jury.

H. L. Richardson, white, was placed under $500 security for six months on a charge of being drunk and disorderly and using obscene language to Policeman Andrews, in the presence of women.

Charles Long, colored, was fined $20 and put under surety for ninety days on a charge of beating his wife, Octavia.

Wise Talks by the Office Boy

Don't call any man a "Dago" man. He may not like it, no more than you would like to be called a "Yankee pig." Many of the best people we have in this country came here from Spain or Italy or Southern Europe, and they are high-strung lads, some of them highly educated and of a highly artistic temperament. A few of them may be milks, but lots of them can give us "cards and spades." Take it in straw hats. The Milan braid that straw hats are made of comes from Italy. You may be interested in knowing how this straw is grown and finished for the market. First, the wheat is grown as thickly as possible, in order that the growth of the plant may be impoverished, as well as to produce a thin stalk, having towards the end from the last knot the lightest and longest straw. The wheat blooms at the beginning of June, and is pulled up by the roots in July. The grain is half developed. About five dozen uprooted branches are tied together in little sheaves and stored away in barns. Later the straw is again spread out to catch the heavy summer dew and to bleach in the sun. Finally it is cut close above the first joint from the top, and again tied up in small bundles, containing about sixty stalks each. A part of it is braided in foreign countries, but some of it is finished in Baltimore by Gibson girls. The hats, when finished, retail from 50c to $4.00. You can buy any of our fine straws now at half price. Panama at half price also. Full line of fancy hat bands.

magnetism and nine great newspapers to back him. The Righteous to Stand Up. It was then that Colonel John Temple Grave rose, and holding forth his arms as if in benediction, called upon the righteous to stand up, after the manner of a Georgia camp meeting. Many of the forty-odd persons in the room beat a hasty retreat; twelve of them, including the lady, stood up and pledged themselves to the new party, while the rest remained seated, watching for developments. There were none, however, of an unusual nature. With the able assistance of the colonel as a "more outside" everything was strictly parliamentary, and there was no demonstration except an occasional hand-clap led by Mrs. White, which was received by the courteous colonel with a smile and a nod.

Chairman William Blumore Seal and his committee named the delegates, who took the instructions embodied in a resolution offered by Mr. J. J. O'Donnell, with some show of enthusiasm. Mr. O'Donnell added to his resolution the proviso that in case William Randall Hearst refused the nomination it would be up to Mr. Graves.

A declaration will be made in favor of government regulation of corporations engaged in interstate commerce. The creation of a nonpartisan commission for the purpose of studying and recommending needed changes in existing tariff schedules will also be urged. The platform will also contain an arraignment of official tolerance in large cities of the country of the social evil and traffic in girls.

Hot and Dry. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] SPOTSVYLVANIA, Va., July 15.—Yesterday was the hottest day here yet in many years. The thermometer registered at 100 degrees in the shade from 11 A. M. to 3 P. M., and men and beasts were panting for breath. Work in the soil was pretty generally abandoned. The vegetation here is very dry, a twin not having fallen here for two weeks, and corn and all other vegetation is withering in the scorching sun.

YOUR HOME will be healthier when you keep bottled Schlitz. The barley is food—the hops are a tonic. And the drinking of liquids flushes the system of waste.

Every doctor knows that most people drink too little. On this account, their systems become clogged with waste.

There lies the main good of watering places. They induce the drinking of water.

That is one reason why the drinking of beer is good for you. It leads you to drink more liquid than you would drink without it. And that liquid is both a food and a tonic.

The sturdiest peoples of the earth drink the most of it. But be sure that the beer is aged, so it will not cause biliousness. And be sure it is pure.

Schlitz beer is all healthfulness.

The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous

LOVE MATCH BEGAN WITH AUTO SMASH

This Week It Will Conclude With Marriage of Chauffeur and Chauffeur.

NEW YORK, July 15.—A romantic automobile courtship will terminate next Friday evening with the marriage of Miss Martha Ethel Hinchman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hinchman, of Atlantic City and Philadelphia, to George Hansen Farrand, a mine owner of Milwaukee, Neb. While at the Chicago convention Mr. Farrand met the Rev. John Wesley Hill, of the Metropolitan Temple, Seventh Avenue and Fourteenth Street, this city. Dr. Hill consented to officiate at the ceremony, which will take place at the future home of the couple, the Trinity Court Apartments, No. 992 Trinity Avenue, the Bronx.

A party of more than fifty friends of the bridegroom will arrive to-morrow from the West to be present at the wedding. Immediately after the ceremony the newlyweds will leave for a trip on the Great Lakes. After that they will tour the Western States in an automobile.

In 1906 Miss Hinchman, who is a daring motorist, was speeding along Sheridan Road, Chicago, in her runabout, when the machine collided with a large touring car driven by Mr. Farrand.

Although bruised and considerably shaken up, Miss Hinchman refused any assistance. Farrand apologized, but Miss Hinchman knew that she was the one at fault, and deeply mortified, she climbed into the machine and rode away.

Quickly repairing a damaged tire, Mr. Farrand followed and noted where the young woman was staying. He tried for a week to obtain an introduction, but being a stranger in the city, he was not successful. At the end of that time Miss Hinchman left for Atlantic City, where her mother was, Farrand followed in his automobile.

There, after two weeks of ceaseless effort, the mine owner finally succeeded in obtaining the desired introduction. A courtship of more than a year followed.

PAINTERS TO ORGANIZE

First Meeting Held Last Night, at Which Plan Was Explained.

Painters of Richmond and Manchester met last night in the Temple of Labor for the purpose of considering ways and means by which they may better their working conditions. This meeting was called by Mr. John M. Dorney, general organizer of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, who emphasized the benefits of organization in the States where the union is well established. The local chapter of the union has already received many applications for membership from the non-union painters of Richmond and Manchester. There will be another open meeting at the Temple of Labor next Wednesday night, to which all painters of whatever branch of the craft are invited.

WASHINGTON, D. ## NOT GIVE TICKETS FOR ADVERTISING

Judge Kohlsaat, of Chicago, Enjoins Railroad From Carrying Out Contract.

CHICAGO, July 15.—"If it be lawful to make the exchange of railroad transportation for advertising then it would be lawful to do the same in every transaction and the railroad business might lawfully become one of barter and sale, limited only by the demand."

In a decision handed down to-day by Judge C. C. Kohlsaat, in the United States Circuit Court, from which the above is quoted, the judge enjoined the issuance of transportation by the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville Railway Company to the publishers of Munsey's Magazine in exchange for advertising.

The decision was rendered in a test case in which the Federal authorities brought suit to prevent the carrying out of a contract entered into in January, 1907, between the railroad company and Frank A. Munsey & Company providing for the issuance of trip tickets on mileage to the value of $100,000 in consideration of certain advertising space in the publication of the magazine company. The contract was alleged to be a violation of the Elkins act, 1907, in passing upon the question of compensation the decision says:

"The question as to the value of the advertising is a contestable one. Manifestly there can be no fixed price placed upon it. The number of copies issued, the character of its subscribers, and very many other questions enter into the estimate of its worth. It is, therefore, impossible to say what its cash market value is except by comparison with other advertising rates. It cannot be said that the evidence is conclusive or even convincing on this point. If it is taken at its cash value, why should the transportation be limited as specified in the contract? If the magazine is paying $500 to the de-

PRINCE SAILS FOR FETES AT QUEBEC

He and His Suite Sail on the Indomitable Which May Try to Make New Record.

LONDON, July 15.—The Prince of Wales and his suite sailed from Portsmouth to-day on board the Indomitable, Great Britain's newest battleship, to attend the forthcoming fetes at Quebec in honor of the founding of that city 300 years ago by Champlain.

Among those at the Waterloo Station to bid farewell to the prince were American ambassador and Mrs. Reid and Lord Scriththorn, High Commissioner for Canada. The Earl of Dudley and Sir Francis J. Shopwood are traveling with the prince. Sir Francis represents the Colonial Office, while the Earl of Dudley, who is going out to take up the governor-generalship of the Australian Commonwealth, will represent Australia at the Canadian celebration.

There has been some talk of the Indomitable, which is capable of doing twenty-seven knots an hour, trying to give the trans-Atlantic liners a new record to emulate, but it is understood that if anything in this direction is attempted it will be on the return journey.

To Spend Week With Indians.

Aldo Purdie, son of "Squire" J. A. Purdie, of 402 West Marshall Street, and Charles Bowman, of Northside, left last night for Windsor Snader, New Kent county, to spend a week with the Chickahominy Indians. Most of their time will be devoted to fishing, but they expect to learn something about woodcraft from the original holders of American.

..News Gathered From Southside..

With regard to one or more newspaper articles criticizing the action, or want of action, in the two Boards of Bridge Commissioners of Richmond and Manchester in declining to accept a proposition offered by the receivers of the Passenger and Power Company to begin repairs on the Free Bridge at once to the extent of $5,000, a member of the Bridge Commissioners of this city, yesterday said that he had rejected the $5,000 proffer for the Passenger and Power Company for several reasons.

First, for the smallness of the amount, which he did not deem a sufficient outlay for the proposed work.

Second, for the reason that the proffered outlay was not a gift, but a loan, the company expecting to be later reimbursed.

Third, for the reason that the Passenger and Power Company is under an annual tribute of $1,500 for the privilege of crossing the bridge, for which reason he believed it would be improper for the Board of Bridge Commissioners to place themselves under obligation to the corporation.

Fourth, that the Bridge Commission already possessed the sum of $4,000, which, when added to the proposed $5,000 special appropriation from the city, would more than equal the $5,000 loan offered by the receivers of the Passenger and Power Company.

Fifth, and lastly, this bridge commissioner believed that it was the business and the duty of the two cities to maintain their own highways and bridge connections, and he looked upon it as beneath the dignity of other municipalities to permit interlopers to meddle in their fundamental principles of self-government.

For the above several reasons, he voted against the acceptance of the $5,000 offer made by the receivers of the Passenger and Power Company to repair the Free Bridge, and he thinks he made no mistake in his stand.

Her Father Was a Soldier.

"Squire" H. A. Jordan is in receipt of a letter from Miss Sallie H. Moore, now spending the season at the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, in which the writer refers to an article recently printed in this column with regard to the "Elliott Grays." In her letter Miss Moore goes on to say that her father, Abner Crump Moore, was a member of the company in question, and served faithfully in the humble though honored capacity of a private in Company I, Sixth Virginia Infantry, Mahone's Brigade. Private Moore's name, writes his daughter, has, for some singular reason, never appeared in any mention of the Elliott Grays, which has so far reached her, although she writes: "I still have all my father's old war letters at home, and also his battle map from Appomattox. Well do I remember the quiet Sabbath morning when he returned from the army, having walked all the way from Appomattox to Manchester. We then lived on Ninth Street, between Decatur and Stockton, near where they are now building the new Methodist Church. I shudder when I think of how he looked—tired, dirty, hungry and footsore, with his gums bleeding from eating hard parched corn, which he had picked up on the roadside after horses had refused it.

"He brought some of it home in his haversack to show us children. He returned to us a physical and financial wreck. He never got over it, but died a poor man."

The writer went on to say that in the days before the war her father was the only undertaker in Manchester. Internments were then made in the old Weisiger burying ground, over which there has been some recent agitation.

Church of the Good Shepherd. The beautiful new Episcopal Church at Forest Hill, to be known as the Church of the Good Shepherd, is being rapidly erected on the River Road, which is the principal thoroughfare in its section.

The structure is to be of Flemish bond brick, Colonial style, and will be situated on a prominent site. When completed the edifice will cost between $5,000 and $7,000. The church was organized in February, 1908, and the congregation, which numbers about seventy-five, hope to occupy it in October of this year.

Bishop Randolph has designated the Rev. Mr. C. Doughtrey, a recent graduate of the Episcopal Seminary, to take temporary charge. Mr. Doughtrey is said to be very popular.

Great preparations are being made by the Sunday-school, which will have in uniform, and many say the Wizards will be put on their metal in protecting their laurels in the game.

To Erect Fine Store.

L. E. Ullman has decided to erect a large brick store on the double site of buildings 1215 and 1217 Hull Street, which were destroyed by fire last Sunday.

Mr. Ullman was brought to this determination by being informed by certain members of the Council that a permit would not be granted for the restoration of the present burned buildings.

The proposed new structure will cover the lot formerly occupied by the two burned buildings and will be modern in every respect.

Persons and Briefs. A musical will be given by the ladies of the Hull at the home of Mrs. C. B. Ford tonight, for the benefit of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Many special attractions have been provided, and refreshments will be served by the ladies. There will be a ten-cent admission fee to the entertainment.

Mr. Charles E. Taylor, who was reported as desperately ill at the home of his father, No. 1211 Perry Street, is very much improved.
